BILL PASSED 119 TO 102

The Vote was Along Strict Farty Lines—Democrats Fought the Measure at Every Step-Minority Kept the House in Session Until After 6 P. M. Offering Amendment After Amendment and on Fach Vote Demanding Tellers-The Bill as it Goes to the Senate.

Washington, Jan. 5.—With the democrats fighting at every step the Mann bill providing for the administration of the Panama canal zone and centralizing the government thereof in the president of the United States, passed the house today by a vote of 119 to 102. The vote was along strict party lines.

House Session Extended into Evening.

The minority kept the house in session in Panama digging a canal, and it is necessary for the president to have the power to make rules and regulations for the government of the zone while work is in progress."

The minority kept the house in session until 6 o'clock this evening by offering amendment after amendment and demanding tellers on each vote. A futile effort was made by Representative Richardson of Alabama to have the measure recommitted to the committee on interstate and foreign commerce. An aye and nay vote resulted 104 ayes and 136 nays.

Spirited Attack on Section 2. Section 2 of the bill, which confers on the president military, civil and judicial powers, including the power to make laws, was the object of spirited attack. Representative Keifer of Ohio joining the democrats in opposition. Respective Attitudes.

Respective Attitudes.

Kum, Lying Dead. New York, Jan. 5.—Chin Lem told the jury today how he found his sweetheart, Bow Kum, lying in a pool of blood on the floor of her sieeping room in New York's Chinatown, the knife she was murdered with by her side. of the Four Brothers society, are on trial for the murder, which was committed last August, Chin is an American-born Chinaman and a member of the On Leong Tong. Although he has spent but eight months of his life in China he testified that he has a wife there. His English was so insufficient that he replied to all questions through an interpreter.

The year of Dr. Cook's last trip to Alaska I saw Edward Barrill, an old friend, at Saward," said Burton. "Later I had an experience with a bear that came near ending my life, and I was chewed up pretty severely. I was greatly surprised when the Cook magazine article was published after he returned to this country, to see in my picture and the story of my experience with the hear. Cook told how his party had rescued me from the jaws of death. As a matter of fact, Cook was not within 150 miles of me at the time the bear and I mixed. In the magazine also was a picture of my struggle with the hear, which, of course, was a fake." terpreter.
Chin testified for the state, "If you have a wife in China, didn't you know," he was asked, "that you could not marry Bow Kum under American laws?"

"I go under China laws," answered It was under China laws, he explained, that he married Bow Kum in San Francisco at the Chinese mission. Then he came east, leaving word that, if business here was good, he would send for her. Business must have been good, for Bow Kum followed him. He paid her rent here, he said, but they lived apart. Atlanta, Ga. Jan. 5.—That the commissioner of public works, H. L. Collier, was cognizant of the filthy conditions at the city stockade and the use of "bucking chair" and rings in the wall for punishment of prisoners; that he carried home vegetables raised by the city prisoners and all the eggs produced by the hundred or more hens kept at the stockade, was testified to by D. M. Vining, superintendent at the stockade, when he resumed the witness stand before the council investigating committee at today's session.

The witness admitted he was suspended from his position just before ne said, but they lived apart. Under cross examination, he was unable to explain where he got his money.

Bow Kum had not been here long when her "China law" husband received a visit from two men he had never seen before. They were the prisoners now on trial and they asked $3,000 in behalf of the Four Brothers. society. Chin testified, in payment for Bow Kum, who, in San Francisco, be-longed to Lau Hau Dong, a member of the society.

Chin refused to pay. He had taken the girl from the mission, he said, not from the society; she had followed him of her own free will and he owed no one for her. The murder soon followed. The witness admitted he was sus-pended from his position just before the grand jury's action relative to the stockade. Since the jury's investiga-tion, he said, the cloests were being penalred, a conducte floor was being said and new mattresses and blankets had been supplied. Other witnesses corroborated Chin.

TIMBER LYING ON GROUND AND GOING TO WASTE

Enough to Supply New York State With Wood for Years. Albany, N. Y., Jan. 5.—That there is sufficient timber lying on the ground and going to waste in the Adirondacks to supply New York state with wood for years is pointed out by Commissioner Whippie of the forest, fish and game commission in his annual report to the legislature today. He advocates a constitutional amendment giving the state the right to remove fallen timber, thus bettering conditions as to fire protection.

The commissioner also recommends ama canal completed and to appoint a director general of the canal and the canal zone—thus doing away with the canal commission.
